Icebreaker: What is next on your reading list?

Discussion Questions:

1. If you were tasked with solving one issue from The Outlaw Ocean, what would you focus on? (e.g., piracy, overfishing, illegal fishing, labor rights, pollution, whaling, protecting marine sanctuaries or remote regions, etc.)
2. What did you learn from this book that was new to you, and what would you like to expand on now that there is space to reflect?
3. What is something you took away from the book that you'll use in the classroom or in your daily life? Which topics from the book lend themselves to classroom activities or lessons?
4. What questions do you still have after reading the book? Was there anything you felt was missing or that could have been developed more?
